JIM YOUNGER SUICIDES

Love Affair Ends the Once Famous Outlaw's Life.

HE DIES AT ST. PAUL

He Leaves Messages Which Shows That the Course He Took Was Deliberate—A Short Sketch of the Man and His Parole.

St. Paul, Oct. 20.—James Younger, formerly a member of the notorious James band of outlaws which infested the western country a quarter of a century ago, committed suicide Sunday by shooting. On a bureau in the room was found a long manila envelope, on one side of which was written:

"To all that is good and true I love and bid farewell."

"JIM YOUNGER."

On the other side of the envelope were these words:

"Oh, lassie, good-bye. All relatives just stay away from me. No crocodile tears wanted. Reporters, be my friends. Burn me up."

"JIM YOUNGER."

The envelope contained a package of letters that had passed between Younger and a lady with whom he is said to have been much in love. The lady, who is prominently connected, is said to have reciprocated his affection, and it was reported at one time that they were to be married. The lady's relatives raised strenuous objections to the wedding, and a further obstacle was the fact that a paroled prisoner could not legally contract a marriage. The couple determined to disregard the objections of relatives and an effort was made to overcome the obstacles to their marriage by securing from the board of pardons a full pardon and restoration to citizenship. This effort failed, and this, it is thought, had much to do with Younger's intention to end his life. The lady is said to be now in Boise, Idaho, for her health.

On another sheet of paper Younger had written this message, evidently his last word before committing suicide:

"October 18.—Last night on earth. So good-bye, lassie, for I still think of thee. A. U. G. Forgive me, for this is my only chance. I have done nothing wrong. But politics is all that Vansant, Wolfe and others of their stripe care for. Let the people judge. Treat me right and fair, reporters, for I am a square man—a Socialist and decidedly in favor of woman's rights. Bryan is the brightest man these United States has ever produced. His one mistake was in not coming out for all the people and absolute Socialism. Come out, Bryan. There is no such thing as a personal God. God is universal, and I know him well and am not afraid."

Younger, since his parole from the state penitentiary in July of last year, had led an exemplary life. His first employment was as traveling agent for a tombstone dealer, and on one of his trips he was quite seriously hurt by a fall from a wagon. Old wounds he had received earlier in life also gave him much trouble, and although he soon obtained lighter employment, his health was precarious, and this caused him much worry. He was 54 years of age.

James Younger was the youngest of the three brothers, Robert, Coleman and James Younger, who between the years of 1866 and 1873 gained great notoriety through their association with Jesse and Frank James. The band, headed by Jesse James, was charged with innumerable robberies of banks and railroad trains, in the execution of which many desperate encounters took place, and a number of men were killed. The band had served through the Civil war, fighting on the side of the Confederacy with Quantrell and his band of guerrillas. The scene of most of their alleged post bellum depredations was the state of Missouri and those states adjacent thereto, but in September 1876, the band entered Minnesota, traversing the state as far as the little town of Northfield in Rice county. There, on September 7, after terrorizing the people on the street, an attempt was made to loot the First National bank. Cashier J. L. Heywood, who was in charge of the bank, made a plucky fight and was shot and killed, but not, however, until he had wounded one or more of the raiders. The citizens of Northfield, quickly recovering from their panic, armed themselves and started in pursuit of the desperadoes, who had mounted their horses and were attempting to escape. A week was spent in their desperate retreat, the pursuing posse of citizens, time and again, coming into contact with the bandits and exchanging shots with them. The raiders were handicapped in their retreat by the wounded, whom they were endeavoring to carry along with them, and finally, in a thick wood, the posse succeeded in surrounding them. A battle ensued in which three of the members of the gang were killed, and the three Younger brothers were captured. Jesse James and the remainder of the outlaws succeeded in making their escape.

All of the Younger brothers had been wounded in the series of battles that had marked their retreat and on this day carry the bullets fired at them by the citizens. The prisoners on Nov. 21, 1876, pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree and were sentenced to the Stillwater penitentiary to serve a life sentence.

In 1889 an effort was made to secure an unconditional pardon for them, it being pleaded in support of this effort that it had not been proved that either of the brothers had fired the shot that killed Cashier Heywood and a further plea for mercy was based on the ground that "Bob" Younger was dying of consumption. Superintendent of Census William R. Merriam, who then occupied the gubernatorial chair, refused to accede to the request and shortly after this Robert Younger died in prison.

Frequent efforts were made to secure pardons for the remaining brethren, but all efforts failed until the legislature in 1901 passed a law patrolling all prisoners who had served twenty-five years and under this law they were given temporary freedom.

MINERS' CONVENTION.

It Is Believed Terms Proposed Will Be Accepted and Strike Ended.

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 20.—Delegates to the anthracite mine workers' convention which will meet here this forenoon for the purpose of accepting or rejecting the proposition of the president of the United States to end the strike and submit all grievances to the arbitration commission appointed by him, began arriving here Sunday and before the convention met all of the 700 delegates to the convention were in the city. Many of the delegates are instructed in various features of the settlement, but a majority of them will follow the advice and judgment of President Mitchell. There is nothing on the surface at this time that gives the slightest indication that the convention will not vote to send the men to work this week, with the probabilities still in favor of Thursday as the day of resumption.

A noticeable thing among the delegates is their cheerfulness. It was quite evident to observers that they will be glad to get together and decide to return to work after the weary idleness of more than five months.

FOR DISTRICT CLERK

We are authorized to announce H. O. JONES as a candidate for district clerk of Brazos county at the ensuing November election, subject to the vote of the people.

FOR COUNTY CLERK

We are authorized to announce G. W. McMICHAEL as a candidate for re-election to the office of county clerk of Brazos county at the ensuing election, subject to the vote of the people.

Twenty horses were burned in a livery stable fire at Victoria.

There are about 200,000 miles of railways in the United States, exclusive of parallel tracks and sidings, and the mileage is being rapidly increased.

There are eight candidates for congress from the first district, to succeed Congressman Sheppard. Among them are Morris Sheppard, J. G. Dudley, Jake Hodges and Charles Todd.

Commercial agencies estimate the year's yield of corn at 2,500,000,000 bushels. The agricultural department does not approve these figures, though it is not yet prepared to give out figures on its own account. If the published estimates are approximately correct, this year's is the largest corn crop ever produced. In 1900 the yield was 2,000,000,000 bushels. In 1901 it was 1,500,000,000. In 1886 it was 2,285,000,000.—Nashville American.

In the present campaign there is little to indicate that there are six candidates for governor of Texas, but such is the case. They are as follows: Democrat, S. W. T. Lanham, of Parker county; republican, Geo. P. Burkett, of Anderson county; Allied People's Party, J. M. Mallett, of Johnson county; Prohibition, Geo. W. Carroll, of Jefferson county; Socialist Party of America, W. W. Freeman, of Val Verde county; Social Labor Party, C. H. Royal, of Lampasas county.

Education is justly regarded as one of the safeguards of liberty. It is, therefore, encouraging to note that the annual report of the commissioner of education, just submitted to the secretary of the interior, shows a grand total of 17,299,230 pupils in the schools of the United States for the year ended June 30, 1901, an increase of 278,520 over the previous year. This does not include colleges and special schools.

The passenger department of the "Texas Railroad," presided over by Mr. D. J. Price, did some notable hustling to induce the people along the I. & G. N. lines to attend the Central Texas fair. Mr. Price has the thanks of the Eagle for copies of the several attractive circulars sent out by his department advertising the fair, giving the official program, and the low rates made by the I. & G. N. lines.

The salaries of the governors of the various states range from $1500 per annum in Oregon and Vermont to $10,000 in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and a few other populous states. Kentucky pays $6500, or more than any other southern state. A majority of the states pay $3000 or $4000. Texas pays $4000.

Texas' freight traffic, especially in the busy season, has grown beyond the accommodations of some of the railroads for speedy handling, but they are increasing their equipment. Orders have been placed for 275 engines and 500 cars by Texas roads.

For District Clerk.

The Eagle takes pleasure in calling attention to the announcement of Mr. Horace O. Jones of the Providence neighborhood, for the office of District Clerk of Brazos county. Mr. Jones says he has made a canvass of the greater portion of the county, and feels very grateful for the encouragement he has received. He expects to call personally on all the voters of the county if possible, and hopes to have a favorable consideration of his claims at their hands. Mr. Jones was born and reared in Brazos county and was educated at the A. & M. college. He is in every way qualified for the office he seeks, and is a young man of exemplary character, and well known in the county.

For County Clerk.

G. W. McMichael announces in the Eagle for re-election to the office of county clerk of Brazos county. Mr. McMichael has made an officer not only acceptable, but highly efficient in this important place. The office of county clerk is one that requires close and careful attention, in order that the records of the county may be properly kept. In his charge are the interests of every property holder in the county, and it requires a cool head and careful attention to business by a competent man to discharge the duties of the office correctly. Such a man we have, and the Eagle commends him to the consideration of the people in his race for re-election.

RACE RIOT IN ALABAMA

Eleven Persons Reported Dead and the Trouble Still Serious.

NEGROES CAUSE RIOT

They Shove a White Woman from a Trestle Severely Injuring Her and an Explanation Being Demanded a Fight Ensued.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 20.—Three white men and eight negroes are reported dead as the result of a race riot at Littleton, twenty-three miles from this city.

The citizens of Littleton have appealed to Sheriff A. W. Burgin for assistance, and a posse of deputies left here on a Southern railway train for the scene of the trouble.

The riot was precipitated by several negroes pushing a white woman from a trestle, and it is said severely injuring her. Several white men armed themselves and apprehended the negroes, demanding an explanation of their conduct. The answer was a volley from a winchester rifle, which killed one man instantly and mortally wounded another. Another white man is missing, and it is supposed he is dead. The white citizens then fired into the ranks of the negroes and several are reported to have been killed.

The following telegram was received by Sheriff Burgin at 9:30 o'clock Sunday night:

"Littleton, Ala.—White man shot dead and one missing. Negroes armed and highways blocked. Things are serious. Send posse here on 10 o'clock train without fail."

The message was signed by S. F. W. Barnes, Rev. F. P. Skeleton, W. F. Lane, M. J. Marshall and C. J. Loangston.

A message received later says three white men and eight negroes were dead.

A newspaper man, who has just arrived in Littleton, reports the situation fully as serious as previously reported. So far he has obtained the following list of casualties and says there are many more to come:

Unknown man, shot dead. Joe Thompson, white, shot in the bowels, serious.

Ira Creel, white, missing, was with Thompson.

John Baer, negro, shot in heel. Will Tolbert, who shot Thompson, shot in the chest, serious.

Later report from Littleton says that three white men and eight negroes are dead as a result of the race riot. The negroes outnumber the whites ten to one, and are in complete possession of the town. The negroes have captured a powder magazine belonging to a coal company. A reign of terror exists.

QUIET AT LITTLETON.

Negroes Dispersed Before Officers Arrived at Scene of Disturbance.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 20.—Everything is now quiet at Littleton, Ala., through the negroes having dispersed and gone home. Deputy sheriffs who went from Birmingham had no difficulty in restoring order and quieting the apprehension of citizens. Deputies have returned to Birmingham, bringing Joe Thompson, the wounded white man, with them.

Ira Creel, the missing companion of Joe Thompson, the white man who first became involved in the row with the negroes, showed up safe and sound, having spent Sunday night in the woods.

John Baer, one of the wounded negroes, is doing well and is expected to recover.

Will Tolbert, the originator of the trouble, is missing, but it is known he is severely wounded.

No further trouble is anticipated here.

Upon the return of the deputies who had been sent to Littleton, the scene of the conflict between the races, it was learned that Joe Thompson, white, who was shot in the melee and who had been put upon the train to bring to Birmingham, died of his injuries on the way.

Deputies report that the trouble is over.

MINERS IN SESSION

They Meet to Accept or Reject Arbitration of the Strike.

FORMER IS FAVORED

Mitchell Advises the Return to Work Leaving to the Commission the Adjustment of Grievances. Believed Strike Is Over.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 20.—About 700 delegates of the United Mine Workers of America from the hard coal mining district of Pennsylvania met in the Nesbitt theater to-day to act on the proposal to settle the long strike by arbitration.

The convention was called by President Mitchell under the rules of the union to vote on the plan which he laid before it and later explained fully in a lengthy address.

Previous to the assembling of the convention there were busy scenes at strike headquarters in the Hart hotel, from where the miners' battle has been directed since the strike begun 168 days ago. The delegates were in the best of humor as they loitered about the hotel lobby. The feeling of the men was evidenced in brief conversations overheard from delegates from distant points. Said one:

"Well, what do you think of the situation now?"

"Oh, we are here to finish it, and I guess we will."

Every delegate whose opinion was sought felt that the convention would do whatever their national leader advised. There was general cheerfulness in the faces of the men, which reflected in the demeanor of the citizens of this prosperous city, in and near which 50,000 of the strikers live, and when fine, clear weather seemed to suggest peace and arbitration.

When the convention re-assembled in the afternoon President Mitchell appeared. He outlined the first proposition of the operators to President Roosevelt and told of his success in getting two others added to the commission so that the miners would get justice.

President Mitchell in his address expressed thanks to the people and to the press of the country for sympathy in the contest and disclaimed all feeling of malice or resentment toward the mine operators. In conclusion he said:

"The proposition submitted for your consideration may have objectionable features, and its details may not meet with a unanimous approval of our people, but it is immeasurably better as now presented than when originally offered by the representatives of the coal corporations. I am firm in my conviction that prompt acceptance of this proposal will secure to anthracite mine workers and those dependent upon them, a greater measure of justice than they could attain by continuing the conflict; I believe prompt acceptance of this proposition will secure to the mine workers a greater degree of justice than they have enjoyed in the past. The people of our country await with anxious expectancy the result of your action; the eyes of the nation are centered upon you, and friends and foes alike demand a submission of issues involved in this strike to the tribunal nominated by the president of the United States."

The reports of the secretaries showed a total of 636 delegates present. The total probably will be increased after all credentials are received.

While these reports were being presented word was received that President Mitchell would not come to the hall from strike headquarters until after convention had permanently organized.

At 11:05 o'clock, when the reading of the reports were concluded and as business could not go on until the committees on credentials made final report, a motion was made and carried to adjourn until 2 o'clock.

Before the miners convention met Secretary-Treasurer Wilson said he was of the opinion the convention would end Tuesday and the men return to work Thursday.

WELCOME TO THE SHAH.

Whole Court Will Meet Him at Frontier from His European Tour.

New York, Oct. 20.—In a description of the hurried journey of the whole of the shah's court along the Tehran-Resht road, in order to welcome his majesty at the frontier on the return of the potentate from his European tour, the correspondent of the Times at Tehran, cabled by way of London:

It was the strangest of pictures, the finest spectacle the eye of the artist, enamored of quaint contrasts, or of the student, searching for the unchanging east, could hope to light upon. For hours at a time streamed past a ceaseless procession of camels, mules, horses and carts laden with paraphernalia. After the advance guard of Russian drilled cavalry came a regiment of infantry, slouching along the road in every variety of patched and tattered uniform, once sky blue. Some of them wore shoes of different pattern, most of them none. The majority were old men and some mere boys. Rifles of all patterns were stuck promiscuously on the back of any unobnoxious mule. Each large band instrument crowned, in solitary grandeur, the load of a pack camel.

When a mishap necessitated repacking a load in the middle of the road one got a glimpse of costly carpets, of robes with walls of many colors, of robes of honor, silken embroideries, quilted bedding. Here and there a silver ewer or piece of gaudy French furniture, tied on loosely with a bit of string, kept clanking at the side of a mule.

Officers of the household with silver staves; funkeys in scarlet coats, high state officials in full waisted black coats, Mullahs with green and white turbans, Persian ladies shrouded in ample black dominos and with thick white veils, jostled in bewildering confusion along the roads or sat in groups in the rest houses.

The total cost of this motley pilgrimage probably was more than $200,000.
